Team ankle warm-up: 3-week pilot

Tech Exploration Lab · Juan José Valverde Ayte, physiotherapist

What it is

A warm-up and prevention routine for your team. About 15 minutes, 2–3 times a week, before practice, built from ankle mobility, strength, balance and landing drills (FIFA 11+ style). Printed card with QR links to short videos; a phone app comes later.

What the trainer gets

- A ready-made warm-up, adjusted with you to your sport and season.
- A simple weekly count of sessions done, as a tool for you.

What it isn't

- Not a medical service. No one monitors athletes through it; injuries go through you as usual.
- No individual or health data. I receive team totals only: sessions done per team per week.

Pilot

Length	3 weeks, first session by Nov 9
Measure	Sessions done per team per week; your verdict in your own words
Success	At least 2 sessions a week in week 3, and you want to continue
Paperwork	UW QI / program-evaluation self-certification completed before the first session

Contact

Juan José Valverde Ayte · [email] · [phone]